CHAPTER V
CONCLUSSION AND SUGGESTION

Based on the result on the data analysis, the purpose of this study the writer would like the following conclussion and suggestion.

5.1 Conclussion

After analyzing the data, the researcher concluded students' speaking problems and some solutions they uses to faced the problems. The problem faced by student in Speaking English.

Based on the results of research from comprehension, it was found the students had problems in speaking related to speaking aspects including grammar, vocabulary, pronounciation, and fluency. Among the five aspects, grammar is the most common problem especially in the find it difficult to from sentence structures with correct tenses and also feel that grammar is very complicated to learn. Then the problem that is often encountered is pronunciation, this is due to the influence of their mother tongue, the pronunciations of newels and consonant between Indonesian and English is different and lack of practice to hone their pronunciations. Next is vocabulary, the low vocabulary knowledge which prevents them from speaking English fluently. And the last is fluency. The problem of fluency occurs because of the lack of practice in speaking using English, so many students are still not fluent in speaking. Actually, it was not really difficult for students to be able to speak as long as the know what the should do. Everything should be trained, so students will be familiar with and fluent in speaking English.

5.2 Suggestion

Considering on the result of the research, the researcher would like to propose some suggestion as follows:

1. For teacher
    a. Hopefully, the teacher will be more careful in finding potential speaking problems that occur in s
    b. students
    c. The Teacher must give the right solution when the students face a problems, especially their speaking ability so that the students' speaking ability will be improved
2. For the students
    a. Students are expected to be able to evaluate themselves about the problems the experience in speaking English.

b. Students must be able to handle their speaking problems with appropriate solutions according to the problems the face.

c. Students must be more active in practicing speaking, improving their grammar knowledge, increasing vocabulary knowledge, and practicing reading and fluency so what it will be easier for them to speak
